Passport to Health and Passport Outdoor Program Provide Tools to Help Children Thrive!

Passport to Health

In Stanly County, a transformative initiative that began more than a decade ago, continues to equip fourth graders with the knowledge and skills they need to lead healthy lives. The Passport to Health program, led by Daniel Harkey, Health Promotion Manager at Atrium Health Stanly, goes beyond traditional classroom education, offering immersive experiences that teach children about the importance of healthy eating, the dangers of smoking, how your body works, and the joys of regular exercise. By instilling these principles at a young age, the program empowers children to make informed choices that support their well-being for years to come. This program is funded through a partnership between Atrium Health Stanly and Stanly Health Foundation.

Fourth-graders receive a Passport to Health shirt at the end of the school year as a tangible reminder of all the lessons learned throughout the year.

Passport Outdoor Program

Once school is out and the summer sun beckons, Stanly County children eagerly anticipate days filled with adventure and exploration. What better way to channel their boundless energy and curiosity than through participating in the Passport Outdoor Program (POP) - a free summer hiking program tailored for fourth and fifth grade students and their families. In addition to providing fun-filled outdoor experiences, POP fosters a deep appreciation for nature and introduces children to Morrow Mountain State Park – an amazing outdoor recreational space right in their own backyard.

In today's digital age, children are increasingly disconnected from the natural world, spending more time indoors glued to screens. The Passport Outdoor Program offers a valuable opportunity to reconnect kids with nature. Through guided hikes along scenic trails, led by Daniel Harkey, AH Stanly's Health Promotion Manager, and other experienced hiking staff, children can immerse themselves in the sights, sounds, and wonders of the great outdoors. From spotting wildlife to marveling at towering trees with new friends, every step taken fosters a sense of wonder and awe. Children are also strengthening muscles, improving their cardiovascular health, and enhancing their overall mental and physical health – but mostly they would tell you they're just having fun! At the end of each hike, all hikers enjoy a healthy lunch together before heading home.

This program is a collaboration between Atrium Health Stanly and the Stanly Health Foundation with assistance from Morrow Mountain State Park, Food Lion, and Stanly County Cooperative Extension.

New Fitness Trail Dedicated to Community Health Champion, Daniel Harkey

Atrium Health Stanly Facility Executive, Marietta Abernathy, and Stanly Health Foundation Executive Director, Jane Boone, accompany Atrium Stanly Community Health Champion Daniel Harkey as he cuts the ribbon at the dedication of the trail named in his honor: The Daniel Harkey Fitness Trail.

Stanly Health Foundation and Atrium Health Stanly are proud to announce the opening of a new fitness trail named in honor of Daniel Harkey, community health champion, whose unwavering commitment to promoting health and wellness has had a meaningful positive impact on our community's well-being.

Daniel's contributions to Atrium Health Stanly and the broader community are many. As Health Promotion & Community Education Manager, he has spearheaded numerous initiatives aimed at enhancing public health across all demographics - fostering wellness, and empowering individuals to lead healthier lives. From health fairs and educational classes to creating meaningful community partnerships dedicated to better community health, Daniel's leadership has been instrumental in driving better health outcomes for our community, but his biggest health impact has been on the children of Stanly County. During the school year, Daniel teaches the Passport to Health program to hundreds of fourth-graders each month in Stanly County Schools and leads the free Passport Outdoor Program for all fourth and fifth graders and their families each summer at Morrow Mountain. These programs are funded through a partnership between Atrium Health Stanly and the Stanly Health Foundation as the organizations work together to foster and promote health and wellness for all members of the community.

The new tree-lined walking path weaves its way through the picturesque landscape surrounding Atrium Health Stanly, providing a welcoming outdoor space for teammates, visitors, and community members, while also supporting various patient health initiatives. All are welcome to use the trail located in the shaded park area on the front campus of the hospital facing Yadkin Street. Happy walking!

An "Ace" of a Day!

Piney Point Golf Club was home to this year's Play Fore the Cure golf tournament. This much-anticipated annual event serves as an important fundraiser for Stanly Health Foundation's initiative to provide free mammograms for uninsured women within our community.

The flawless weather was outshined only by the overwhelming generosity of Foundation sponsors and participating teams whose loyal support and generosity make the free mammogram program possible. This program plays a crucial role in promoting early detection of breast cancer - therefore saving lives. By removing financial barriers, the Foundation's initiative ensures that all women have access to regular screenings, increasing the chances of early diagnosis and successful treatment. This not only improves individual outcomes but also has a positive impact on the overall health and well-being of the community.

Jane Boone, Kim McGowen, and Amy Jones spotlight the community partners who are making a difference in local healthcare through their support of the Foundation.

Atrium teammates and Foundation donors, Jodi Merritt, Alex Escoto, Chris Vaughn, and Erin Martin volunteered their time at the Play Fore the Cure golf tournament helping ensure all the players had a fun day on the links.

Anne Jordan, Ellen Snyder, Mandi Rogers, and Margaret Rudisill played in support of free mammograms for financially needy women. Early detection is the best protection!

Alan Fesperman sunk a 40-foot putt to beat out all the other putting contest finalists and win this pink Play Fore the Cure yeti cooler!

Giddy Up for Good Health

Once again, the Foundation's President's Club (PC) celebration week exceeded all expectations! This week of celebration is dedicated each year to honoring hospital teammates who generously contribute to the Foundation and to spreading the word about the Foundation's mission to potential new teammate donors.

Standout moments included "Mercantile Monday," where themed t-shirts were handed out to PC members; "Lasso a Latte" Tuesday, treating everyone to a bounty of coffee and smoothies for a refreshing start to the day; "Chuckwagon Wednesday," featuring the beloved burger food truck, Nor'east Treats and Eats; and finally, the PC roundup with delectable Cowboy Cookies from Albemarle Sweet Shop. The Foundation was thrilled to honor 200 current PC members and welcome 44 new President's Club members! Teammate Tanya Harris led the charge by personally recruiting 10 new members. Randy Brown, a new addition to the club, walked away with the coveted "grand prize gold" of $300 cash from a drawing that included all current and new President's Club members!

The Foundation is immensely grateful for the support of our teammates which enables projects and programs aimed at enhancing the health of our community possible. The Foundation staff is already looking forward to celebrating each of these special teammate donors again next year!

Randy Brown receives his grand prize cash from Kim McGowen, the Foundation's Annual Giving Officer.

Hats off to Bonanza!

March 23 was a delightful spring Saturday in Albemarle as the 21st annual Outdoorsman's Bonanza took over Market Station showcasing another enjoyable and successful event. Presented by Albemarle Downtown Development Corporation, Stanly Health Foundation, and the Stanly County Shrine Club, the day was packed with food, drinks, and the chance to win exciting prizes for every outdoor enthusiast. Proceeds from the event help fund grants and initiatives in collaboration with our local hospital, covering essentials such as free mammograms, health screenings, disease prevention and self-management, prescription and nutrition assistance for financially disadvantaged patients, scholarships for healthcare students, and more. Mark your calendars for next year's event, March 22, 2025, and come out and join in the fun!

Stanly Health Foundation Awards $19,000 in Scholarships for 2024

Students had two opportunities to apply for scholarships in 2024 from the Stanly Health Foundation to support their studies in healthcare. The Stanly Health Foundation awards the Roy and Lou Hinson Scholarship and the Crook Family Scholarships annually.

The Hinson Scholarship celebrates the late Roy Hinson's forty-one years of dedicated service to the local hospital, and his wife, Lou, who is retired from public education and provided many years of volunteer support to the Roy M. Hinson Cancer Center.

The C.B. Crook Family Scholarship honors the years of philanthropic work by the late C.B. Crook and his wife, Betty.

To be considered for either scholarship, a student must be an Atrium Health Stanly teammate, the dependent of a teammate, or a resident of Stanly or Montgomery Counties and have completed at least half of their degree requirements by the end of the summer 2024 semester with a cumulative GPA of 3.2 or higher. The student must be accepted into a healthcare program of study.

The Stanly Health Foundation Roy and Lou Hinson Scholarship and a Crook Family Scholarship were awarded to Shani Pemberton of Albemarle who is working toward her Doctor of Nursing degree at UNC Wilmington concentrating in Psychiatric Mental Health. Securing Tomorrow's Healthcare: The Importance of Including Stanly Health Foundation in your Estate Planning

As you navigate the ever-changing landscape of healthcare, one thing remains constant: the unwavering commitment of our community to support the mission of our local hospital. Today, let's shine a spotlight on the importance of planned giving—a powerful way to leave a lasting legacy and ensure the future of local healthcare for generations to come.

Planned giving, or estate planning, involves thoughtful, intentional philanthropic contributions that are arranged during a donor's lifetime but realized at a future date. This form of giving allows individuals to make a significant impact on the causes they care about most while also providing financial benefits for themselves and their loved ones.

Planned giving is a cornerstone of Stanly Health Foundation's long-term sustainability and growth. By including the Foundation in your estate plans, donors provide essential support that enables the Foundation to continue its mission of providing high-quality healthcare services to our community. Here are several reasons why planned giving is so important:

1. Ensuring Financial Stability: Planned gifts provide a reliable and sustainable source of funding for our hospital foundation's programs and initiatives, helping us weather economic uncertainties and fluctuations in traditional sources of revenue.
2. Expanding Impact: Planned gifts allow donors to make larger contributions than they may have thought possible, enabling our foundation to undertake ambitious projects, invest in innovative technologies, and expand services to meet the evolving needs of our community.
3. Leaving a Legacy: Through planned giving, donors have the opportunity to leave a lasting legacy that reflects their values and priorities. Whether supporting a specific program, establishing an endowed fund, or naming a facility in their honor, planned gifts ensure that their impact will be felt for years to come.
4. Encouraging Future Support: Planned giving fosters a culture of philanthropy within our community, inspiring others to follow in the footsteps of generous donors who have made provisions for the Stanly Health Foundation in their estate plans.

There are many ways to support Stanly Health Foundation through planned giving, including bequests, charitable trusts, retirement account designations, and life insurance policies. Please consult with your financial advisor or estate planner to explore the planned giving options that best align with your personal and financial goals.

Your support through an estate gift will help build a healthier future for our community—one legacy at a time.
